Royal portrait artist visiting

If, as an English artist 22 years old, you have already been commissioned to paint the Queen Mother, what is left? That is what happened to Richard Stone who is in Southern California for two or three weeks.

Stone also achieved singular status as the youngest Royal portrait painter in two centuries. Sir Thomas Lawrence (whose picture of "Pinkie" is in the Huntington) painted Queen Charlotte in 1790 at the age of 21.

Although it would be a popular concept that once he reached the level of Royal portrait painter, Stone could retire on his laurels, that is not exactly the way it goes. One of the reasons he is in the United States is to drum up some portrait business. And his prices are amazingly low: charcoal and red chalk drawings are as low as $1000 and an oil (head only) is only $4000. His most expensive price — full length standing figure — is $12,000. For those who are familiar with the pricing of oil portraiture, his prices are extremely low.

Stone was the son of a Colchester postman, so he was not born into academic art. In fact, his only formal training was with his next-door neighbor, an Essex amateur painter, Frederick Heron, from the time Stone was 8 in 1959.

When the youthful-looking Stone was 14, he went to the Royal Academy Summer Exhibition where he spotted a portrait by Sir Gerald Kelly. In what Stone describes as his own "cheekiness," he pursued Kelly until Kelly took him on as a student.

"I asked him (to teach me) and he said, 'Bring as much as you can to my studio and I will dissuade you.' He looked at my work and said it had too much enthusiasm and not enough talent. He saw my disappointment and said to me, 'I'll show you some real pictures. I was your age when my parents sent me to Paris.'" Stone explains that Kelly worked with Rodin, Monet and Renoir when he was in Paris.

Kelly said to the teenager, "Come again and I'll show you a few exercises." That was the beginning of a special four-year interim in the life of Stone. Kelly died just before Stone's 18th birthday.

The first exercise Kelly gave Stone was to paint a peach since "the bloom on a peach is the same as that on flesh" but, Kelly told the boy, "The advantage of a peach is that you can eat it."

Dozens of peaches later, Stone began getting the feel of painting human flesh.

In another spurt of "cheekiness" stone began besieging the Queen Mother at Clarence House with telephone calls and letters. He finally got through to the comptroller and asked if he may do a portrait of Her majesty Queen Elizabeth, the Queen Mother.

Portrait artist Richard Stone with portrait studies of his daughter, Flavia, and the Lord Mayor of London. These studies have been transformed into large oil portraits.

"I said please don't hang up. I could be a latter-day Rembrandt. The line went dead. He then said, 'Bring some portraits,' and when he saw them

New council agrees on naming bandshell for Fader

There was mostly good news at the Sierra Madre City Council meeting Tuesday led by the new Mayor, Lisa Fowler. Action included naming the soon-to-be-constructed bandshell after the late Walter Fader. Over $10,000 is now intact for the project, with over $5000 given recently by an anonymous donor.

There is more good news about the Kersting Court Flag Fund: within a two-week interim $881.65 has been collected. Each nylon flag to be purchased to fly daily over Kersting Court, the courtyard-center of the town, costs about $200. At the rate the fund is growing, funds for several years of flags will be deposited in a local bank to draw interest and to be used when needed.

Bill Birgensmith is the brains behind the fund and Jan Maddox is serving as treasurer.

Dedication of the flag will be held on July 4 in coordination with completion of work on the Statue of Liberty.

On his own time, City Councilman Sam Simpson completed a city map of every city water line, its size and the date it had been laid. Impressed by Simpson's long hours of work, new City Councilman Bruce Crow made a motion to request the city engineer to develop plans for replacing pipes on Alegria, Laurel and Sturtevant as quickly as the bidding procedure and letting of bids can be completed. Simpson stressed an urgent need that the information would be available within a month.

Simpson also urged the council to clean out five more settling basins and Crow requested an estimate to clear out eight more beyond those five.

Interim Ordinance 1022 passed pursuant to the provisions of Section 65858 of the California Government Code imposing a moratorium on construction on accessory buildings without refined sideyards from the front yard rear line to the rear yard line, pending studies by the Planning Com-

Pugh pleads innocent to murder

Det. David Shively of the West Covina Police speculates that an argument over drugs and money may have been the cause of the Mar. 24 death of Sierra Madrean, Matt Van Wickle.

Shively told The News that police believe Van Wickle was approached in the parking lot of Santa Anita Fashion Park by Lee Roy Pugh, 23, of 227½ Cherry Ave. in Monrovia, who offered the Arcadia High School student gas money and the drug PCP in exchange for a ride to West Covina.

Apparently Van Wickle drove Pugh to Walmerado Park in West Covina where Pugh informed the youth that he had neither money nor drugs.

Shively said police speculate that after an argument, Pugh drew a .25 calibre pistol and told Van Wickle to move to the passenger side of the car. At some point in the next few minutes, Pugh allegedly shot Van Wickle three times in the left side.

Shively told The News that after shooting Van Wickle, police theorize that Pugh left the auto in the Department of Motor Vehicles parking lot in West Covina, went to a home in West Covina, which was probably his parents' home, and took a shower. He returned to the car, drove to West Garvey Ave. in West Covina and dumped the body.

He moved to the Cherry address two days after the killing and the body was found Mar. 27.

Shively said a relative of Van Wickle spotted Van Wickle's car on the 210 freeway, followed it to the Cherry address and stopped to call Monrovia police. West Covina Police put out a surveillance and the next day, Apr. 5, about 10:30 a.m., Pugh returned with the car and was arrested. The car was impounded.

Pugh pleaded innocent to Murder I charges a week ago and a preliminary hearing was set for Friday, Apr. 25.

Shively said the charge is Murder I with "special circumstances, which could lead to the death sentence, killing in the course of kidnapping."

He also said he expects the preliminary hearing to be continued.

Woody Strode is parade marshal

Donna Morin, cochairman of the Fourth of July activities for the Sierra Madre Chamber of Commerce, announced this week that Woody Strode, ex-L.A. Ram and movie star, will be the parade marshal this year. Walter Douglass is the other cochairman for all the activities.

Jeanette Griffith heads the booth committee and Judy Webb is in charge of children's games at Memorial Park. Alan Truax is publicity coordinator.

A baseball with all the Dodgers' autographs is one of the items that will be given away in the many drawings scheduled at Memorial Park following the parade.

Morin and Douglass ask the community to donate bottles of wine for other drawings scheduled. They can be delivered to Abacus or to The Spinning Wheel, Morin explained.

Drawing tickets are available at the business locations of all members of the Chamber of Commerce with the center at Caprice, Spinning Wheel and Abacus, as well as the Sierra Madre News.

July 4 parade participation forms are also available at Abacus, the Spinning Wheel and the chamber office.

Kiwanis Club sponsors business lunch May 6

Sierra Madre Kiwanis Club in conjunction with the Chamber of Commerce and Syverson/Tosh Communications will sponsor a seminar on public relations and marketing for the small business Tuesday, May 6, at noon at the Masonic Temple, 33 E. Sierra Madre Blvd.

This meeting is a continuation of the monthly business series by the Sierra Madre Kiwanis Club, starting at noon and ending about 1:30 p.m.

A charge of $6 covers lunch expenses. Reservations may be made by calling Mario Cano, president of Kiwanis, at 355-1464.

Everyone is invited.

Chamber mixer set for May 1

Sierra Madre Chamber of Commerce plans a mixer, Thursday, May 1, at Lloyds Bank to welcome the new manager, Liz Even, to the city.

Festivities start at 5:30 and run until 7:30 p.m. and the community is invited.

Tims forms therapy group to 'make lemonade from lemons'

In an effort to "make lemonade out of lemons," Michael Tims, MS, is setting up a program for people who have been laid off their jobs. Tims is particularly sensitive to this cause since he was one of 43 employees recently let go by St. Luke Hospital.

"I've been through it and have a special empathy for those persons," he told The News.

There is a sense of urgency in his new program since four large companies have recently cut back and laid off a considerable number of persons in this immediate area of California, Tims explains. "I tend to take a more constructive approach. Life has given us lemons — let's make lemonade," he says, citing nearly 3000 displaced persons brought about by the most recent cutbacks.

Tims explains the job loss syndrome as "not unlike other losses such as divorce and death." He says, "A person's life goes through chaos in which he questions his identity and has a feeling of inadequacy and depression. Where do these people go for help, for the 'people helping people' approach? This is the sort of program I have set up so they can work through problems led by a professional counselor, so they can turn a negative into a positive. it's all in your attitude. It is not unnatural for these people to feel angry and vindictive. They need to know they are not alone," he states.

Tims says he has worked with many who have gone through losses. He says these people who have lost their jobs go through a natural grieving process. They must be sure not to allow themselves to go into a slump, then into isolation and withdrawal. They need to get involved and find a positive way to alleviate their tensions. They need a time to consider their options, he explains.

Michael D. Tims

"Professional guidance can speed up the process and keep these people on the right track — they need to be goal-directed. Aside from the financial burden, the damage to a person's ego takes its

Under the Pepper Tree

by Jan Reed

● Grandma Anne (Tyler) is hitting the streets again . . . walking to get warmed up for the March of Dimes Walk America Apr. 26 with her Grandson Tim. She did it last year and she's getting tuned up for this year's march.

● We only think it's fair that we report three license plates we saw on the freeways this last weekend — QT CAMRAY (on a Toyota, of course), PETLLLS, and NEWS. We particularly liked the last one.

● Ruth Alexander is back at work at the Chamber of Commerce. It's good to know she's feeling so well . . .

● All of our Tuesdays are exciting but once in awhile there is a Tuesday that is a bit more exciting than others. Last week was that "once in awhile."

We had a burglar on our roof while we pasted up the paper.

We weren't even aware of any problem until we heard a familiar voice on our police radio say something about catching someone by going through the Sierra Madre News. We were alert very quickly. There were spotlights everywhere. And police personnel were going in and out of The News office.

George was out the door quickly since the Sierra Madre Fire Dept. was helping the police and then we heard them say something about someone being on the roof of The News. And, indeed, one suspect was cowering in the front corner of the roof just by the pepper tree. George spotted him and the police were up there in an instant.

I kept wondering if someone could be hiding in the back room, the old press room, of our office. John and I finally got up our courage, turned on a light and investigated. There was no one there, thank heavens.

Two suspects were handcuffed and placed

'Passive' smoke also dangerous

Last week we outlined several statistics about the dangers of smoking. As our friends know, we try to spread the word about those dangers and the results of many findings done by the American Lung Association.

Exposure to passive smoke by nonsmokers who are exposed to "tobacco-combustion products" in an indoor environment is also dangerous.

Several studies have reported a significant association between the prevalence of respiratory illnesses (bronchitis and pneumonia) in infants and children under age 2 and parental smoking habits.

One study reported that the children of mothers who smoked had a 70% greater chance of being hospitalized for respiratory conditions than the children of nonsmoking mothers.

Total direct health care costs associated with smoking are over $16 billion annually.

Indirect losses attributable to smoking for lost productivity and earnings are estimated at $37 billion annually.

There is an annual per capita social cost at about $200.

The economic burden on each nonsmoker for providing medical care for smoking induced illness exceeds $100, paid primarily through taxes and health insurance programs.

Conservative estimates of the excess costs to employers incurred by each smoker are between $300 and $800 per year.

Over 90% of smokers wish to quit and the majority have tried one or more times.

There are now more teenage girls smoking than teenage boys — 12.7% girls as compared to 10.7% boys.

In general, students exposed to smoking prevention classes have started smoking at rates 15 - 50% lower than those of the control groups.

What do these facts say? They say "Stop smoking now."

Time again to 'Spring forward'

It's that time again. Every six months we have to remember either to set our clocks back or to advance them an hour earlier.

In the interest of Daylight Savings Time, on Sunday you advance your clocks an hour.

For those of you traveling eastward, that means it's going to be an hour later. For those of you traveling as far west as Hawaii, you'll have a three-hour time difference.

And now we'll all have an hour more of daylight — or so it seems.

Old Fashioned

Tips, Tales & Tantalizers

Have you ever heard the old saying, "everything comes in threes"? . . . or what about "third time's a charm"? Or what about "when one light bulb goes, so will two others?" (And you know, what's funny is that you can only buy lightbulbs in packs of twos and fours. But that's another story.)

The good old Greek philosopher Pythagoras back in 6th century B.C. thought that the most perfect number was number 3. Why? Well, he figured it was the number of completion and fertility. (Man, woman, child.) In fact, in Arian tongues, or language, 3 is the expression of plurality and multiplication of all things.

The number 3 can be found in ancient mythology and in modern psychology. In the American Indian philosophy, 3 pertains to the three parts of the world — heaven, sky and earth. We modern-folk speak of three as the body, mind and soul.

So, you can see that the number 3 is pretty special. I've been told it is my lucky number and you know Shakespeare would agree. You see, he believed that there was luck in odd numbers, especially number 3.

However, there's one thing he didn't take into consideration about the number 3. That's the light bulb. I bet Shakespeare never had to replace one!

Lines from the Library

The periodical corner at the library is colorful, inviting and a special place to browse among the more than 200 carefully-selected newspapers and magazines.

Magazines and newspapers play a unique role in our culture. Collectively and singly, they entertain, inform, editorialize, criticize, educate and communicate all in a disposable format, which paradoxically can be stacked in a corner and referred to at any time.

Magazines and newspapers run the gamut in subject matter from Americana and aviation to zoology with hobbies, news, science, travel, fashion, politics, business and technical information in between. Think of a subject and probably someone out there has already created a special esoteric publication.

Worldwide 128,000 separate and distinct publications are available. The Bowker Serials database lists 69,000 separate periodicals defined under 557 subjects. A periodical may be defined as being issued more than once a year, usually at regular intervals with no two editions exactly alike.

Newspapers are usually dailies or weeklies and encapsulate the world of the right now. The size of the sphere covered by a newspaper varies from local strata to the international scene. This daily and weekly regurgitation of news and information is a vital function of our free world.

The next time you are browsing in the periodical corner at the library, put little wonderment in your pocket.

Open letter to City Council

Over the years I have attended enough Council meetings to be aware of the many hours you devote the city affairs.

My thanks and appreciation to you Council members — and to Tom Edwards for his devotion, honesty and wisdom — for his continuity of purpose — for voting his conscience, never equivocating.

The Sierra Madre ordinances are our local constitution. They also are made up of articles which embody our local laws.

There has been evasion recently and this is not a recent phenomenon. It has been going on for decades, not just with regard to R-1 zoning, the purpose of which is to protect the integrity of single-family residential areas.

Over the years a tradition has developed whereby violators of R-1 zoning have been allowed an indefinite period in which to recover their investment — with no regard for the infringement of the rights of their neighbors.

There is a very good reason for the ordinance against illegal rentals. In clandestine cases they obtain no permits and thus escape inspection for health and safety standards.

There have been dangerous fires and at least one death from an unvented gas heater.

The city has adequate and economical means at its disposal for discovering code infractions. Other cities use them, such as:

- Qualified senior volunteers.
- Cal-Poly students
- Part-time meter maids

We are not helpless. And no citizen should be called an "over-the-fence" snoop for reporting a violation.

Revenue has been an issue in the recent election.

One wonders how much the city loses in uncollected fines? Not only from zoning violations, but from:

- Parking of vehicles in front and side yards
- Over-time parking
- Blocking sidewalks
- Not curbing wheels
- Over-time on garbage cans in parkways
- Permits
- Sign violations, etc.

There may have been occasions when enforcement was selective — against some, excused for others.

The water dept. has a policy of assessing a 5% penalty against overdue bills, beginning immediately upon default. When a policy is used against only the Water Dept. users, that is discrimination.

We are a government of laws. Laws that become unpopular or unnecessary can be changed through proper means. That is the American way.

Public office is a public trust — that is why an oath is administered. It means that one's word is inviolable.

Sierra Madre is indeed a lovely place. It deserves a change to realize its potential.

All of us have responsibility.

Sierra Madreans are very helpful

Car trouble can, at best, be a nuisance. At times, a real pain. A defective battery got my car as far as Sierra Madre Blvd.and Mountain Trail, Saturday around 6 p.m., where, after lurching, coughing and sputtering, it died. It had already been jump-started in Arcadia and just didn't have enough oomph to make it any further. It was after that that I became more appreciative of living in Sierra Madre. I've known this was a special place — that's why I chose to move here — but I didn't realize how special until Sat.

Just as a fellow in a pick-up truck offered help, a policeman stopped. He helped me get the car back against the curb and radioed for Auto Club. While I warmed a bus bench waiting for the tow truck, a young couple going the opposite direction turned around and offered help. Then a lady jogger asked if I needed to call anyone, as she lived nearby. After a long time, the tow truck had not come. But, a lady from across the street came over to see if she could help. It was now getting a little chilly, so I asked if I could use her phone to check on the tow truck. Just then, a young man from Molay that I know and his girlfriend came around the corner and recognized me, so they stopped. They stayed with the car while I went with the lady to phone. The car was towed to the Union 76 station and the young man and his girlfriend drove me home with all the stuff I had in my car.

In this day and age of people "not wanting to get involved," I was surprised to be offered so much help. To all of you, I really appreciate it and thank you. It was pleasant sitting on that bus bench, nibbling some cookies, listening to the birds chirp. The car trouble lost a lot of the "pain."

I walked back to the 76 station and discovered that Bill, the owner, had gone out of his way to offer help. This man, who tries to be so gruff, really has a heart of gold.

I'd read in last week's paper that Bill was heading a committee to get a new flag for Kersting Court. I think that is a terrific idea, so I'm going to urge everyone I know to contribute to the Flag Fund. I hope enough Sierra Madreans feel the same way, so that Bill and his committee can get the biggest, prettiest and best flag that is available.

Thanks again,

Sandra Kelly

Father says he will not lose children!

I am Bill Bowser. I am the father of 4-year-old boy-girl twins who were taken away exactly 300 days ago, on June 28, subsequent to the "objective" investigation done by S.M.P.D. Officer Suzanna Amor.

520 days ago, my family first became involved with DCS — Dept. of Children's Services, by asking for help! The recommendation to the Juvenile Courts in this dispositional phase of this hearing is that my children not be returned until the 777th day, after asking for help. How long were the hostages in Iran?

It has been alleged and the allegations sustained, that I have repeatedly molested my daughter. This is a lie. The hearing which I and my spouse have been going through, the 14th appearance in 315 days on May 8, is not objective. The objective is clear and simple; kidnapping, extortion and robbery by force of arms.

There is not enough space in the letter to the editor column to tell you all what my family has gone through, nor can I reach out any other way to inform the citizenry of what is going on.

There has been no due process of law. Our rights have been either ignored or circumvented. I have been expressly denied permission to present evidence and witnesses in my and my family's behalf and evidence and testimony has been fabricated and admitted to support said allegations.

I say, "It is the purpose of the Juvenile Court and the Dept. of Children's Services to provide for the safety and welfare of our children and our community, not to provide the children of our community to the contracted services of the Juvenile Courts and the D.C.S. Shutzstaffle."

Mostly what I want is my children back! This is my goal, even if it takes all this and I have to do it alone, my God put me and mine here and that is enough for me.

William E. Bowser

Welcomes C.L.I.M.B. to the community

As president of the Sierra Madre Chamber of Commerce, I would like to take this opportunity to put to rest an ugly rumor that is circulating that the Chamber does not want C.L.I.M.B. in Sierra Madre. The Chamber and all of our members as a group wish to emphasize our total support of C.L.I.M.B. We are happy to have them participate as a member and provide positive feedback to our organization.

C.L.I.M.B. is respected as an upstanding organization that allows those participants to mingle in our community and take their rightful position in society. Very few communities can boast having an organization that helps those less fortunate gain the skills and training not only to take care of themselves, but to contribute to the community in such a positive manner. We are very proud to have them in Sierra Madre.

The Chamber and individual business people are delighted to have members of C.L.I.M.B. as customers and residents. We are proud to have them help complete what we feel makes our community the special place where we live and work.

We take great pride in their participation in activities sponsored by the Chamber and gladly make any special arrangements needed to allow them to participate as full members of our community. We, as a group of business people, also offer our support for C.L.I.M.B. by attending and supporting their functions within the community to the fullest extent possible.

Boycotting station because of bad news

In the past, I enjoyed very much my visits to the beauty parlor where I learned about Jane's health. Mary Jane's new baby and how well Louise was doing. These were the good things I looked forward in hearing about people. I still do this.

On the other hand, I also enjoyed my visits to the local 76 gas station for my weekly fill up. But not any more. I got tired of hearing how bad the Sierra Madre Police Dept. were doing, how rotten our Mayor is and how terrible the Sierra Madre Fire Dept. were doing. I don't want to hear these things because I am very proud of my little town — Sierra Madre.

That is not good for our community, that is why I have decided to boycott Bill's 76 Station.

Ginger Marrone

Thanks to all

Since I keep encountering members of so many organizations who voted for me to be named Sierra Madre Senior of the Year, I want to take this means of thanking you all. There are so many I couldn't begin to thank you personally, but I want you all to know your thoughts meant a great deal to me.

My sincere congratulations to Ola Smith and also to the Sierra Madre Sr's Club who gave her their vote.

Again, thanks to all my supporters.

We'll get the scoop on your competition!

St. Rita's Fiesta Apr. 26, 27

St. Rita's Parish Fiesta, planned for the weekend of Apr. 26 and 27, promises to be one filled with a variety of delights for all ages. This year Bingo will be a highlight of Saturday's entertainment, starting at 4 p.m. in the PAC Hall. O'Malley Hall is the place to be Sunday for the live auction starting at 4 p.m.

Game and food booths, the ever-popular dunk tank and a country store, boasting handmade and novelty items, will remain open during the entire fiesta hours. For the first time, a tiny-tots area will feature face-painting, badge making, helium balloons and a cake walk.

And for those interested in socializing or people watching, the wine and beer barden will provide an oasis of serenity.

Drawings will feature: 1st, 8-night/2-day Hawaiian vacation or $1000 in cash; 2nd, a VCR; five third prizes of $100 each and 10 fourth prizes of $50 each. Tickets sell for $1 each or a book of 11 for $10. This year brings the introduction of a limited edition collector's pin commemorating the event.

A steak dinner will be served Sunday from 2-5 p.m. at the cost of $5 per adult and $3 per child. The children will be entertained during the live auction by a puppeteer in the PAC Hall starting at 4:15.

'Lion in Winter' at playhouse

"The Lion In Winter," a dramatic comedy by James Goldman, opens with champagne at the Sierra Madre Playhouse on Friday, Apr. 25, for a run of six weekends.

"The Lion In Winter" runs Fridays and Saturdays at 8 p.m. through May 31. Tickets are $6 for adults, $5 for seniors and students and $3 for children under 12. Group rates are also available.

Art fair T-shirts are now available

That special souvenir — a T-shirt commemorating this year's art fair, the 24th annual one — can now be purchased at the Sierra Madre Public Library. They will also be sold at the art fair set for Saturday and Sunday, May 17 and 18, 9:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. each day. Proceeds from the sale of T-shirts and the fair, which is sponsored by the Friends of the Sierra Madre Library, go to support the library.

The T-shirts, priced at $8 each, are ecru in color and feature the head of a winsome raccoon, beautifully designed by Sierra Madre News artist Jane Eason in dark brown, as is the printing. Men's, women's and children's all come in small, medium and large sizes with men's also including extra large. Men's and children's are styled in the traditional crew neck and sleeve and the women's have a lower neck and cap sleeve. They are all easy care. Payment may be by cash or by check made out to the Friends of the Sierra Madre Library.

The art fair committee with Larry Weiss, chairman, has been meeting to finalize plans for the admission-free event which takes place in the lovely setting of Memorial Park at the corner of Hermosa and W. Sierra Madre Blvd. Patricia Hofer has accepted the position of treasurer, a major responsibility for the committee.

Well over 120 artists of the highest quality in the fair's tradition have already been chosen as exhibitors and their works will be for sale. Also in process is the choosing of the numerous food vendors that provide the exciting variety of traditional and gourmet food that makes the fair one to remember. Community groups also participate to help in their own fund-raising.

The 9th Annual Health Fair, sponsored by the Sierra Madre Community Health Care Auxiliary, will be taking place in conjunction with the art fair and will be located near City Hall at the northwest end of the park.

CORDUROY CARE

By Joe Delgatto

One of the most popular fabrics for Fall and Winter this year is corduroy. It has even replaced denim in many of the new sprtswear fashions. Corduroy is a tough resilient fabric that can most often stand up to the active life of school children, but also has the good looks to become fashionable garments for both men and women.

Corduroy fabrics may be made of different fibers, such as polyester and cotton. This blend of fibers produces a soft, smooth fabric.

Even though corduroy is a strong, resilient fabric, damage from abrasion may cause color change, light areas on the garment, and shiny areas. The light, shiny areas are caused from a flattening of the pile. This condition cannot be corrected and is caused by wear.

Corduroys dryclean beautifully when handled by a profesisonal. Since many children's corduroy garments become badly soiled, your professional drycleaner is often the best answer to getting these stubborn stains out completely.

Tailored clothing should always be entrusted to your fabricare expert.

For your dining pleasure

The essence of Indian cuisine with an accent from the Orient is captured in this savory recipe for Creamy Curried Chicken Breasts. The chicken is first rubbed with naturally brewed Kikkoman Soy Sauce; slowly browned; then braised in a piquant combination of dry white wine and brewed soy sauce. Cooks from around the world know that there is no substitute for brewed soy sauce. An all-purpose seasoning, its rich and complex taste enhances and improves the flavors of many different kinds of foods, without overpowering. The braising liquid, also the base for the distinctive sauce, is seasoned with pungent curry, onion and garlic. As the sauce cooks, bright green peas are added for a touch of color and texture contrast. Before serving, the succulent braised chicken is smothered in the exquisitely creamy and richly flavored curry sauce.

CURRIED CHICKEN BREASTS

- 2 whole large chicken breasts, split
- 4 Tbsp. naturally brewed Kikkoman Soy Sauce, divided
- 3 Tbsp. vegetable oil, divided
- 1 Tbsp. dry white wine
- Milk
- 1/2 cup chopped onion
- 1 clove garlic, minced
- 2 Tbsp. all-purpose flour
- 2 teaspoons curry powder
- 1/2 pkg. (10 oz. size) frozen peas, thawed and drained

Rub chicken breasts with 1 Tbsp. soy sauce; let stand 15 minutes. Brown slowly on both sides in 1 Tbsp. hot oil in large skillet; drain off fat. Arrange chicken, skin side down, in skillet. Combine remaining soy sauce with wine; pour over chicken. Cover and simmer 35 minutes. Turn chicken over; cook, covered, 15 minutes longer, or until tender. Remove chicken; keep warm. Pour pan drippings into large measuring cup. Skim off fat; discard. Add enough milk to measure 2 cups. Wipe skillet clean; add remaining oil and heat over medium heat. Add onion and garlic; saute 1 minute. Blend in flour and curry powder; cook 1 minute. Remove from heat; gradually blend in milk mixture. Stir in peas. Bring to boil; cook and stir until slightly thickened. Add chicken pieces and coat with sauce. Makes 4 servings.

More to Billy Reed's than a great last name

We don't go to Billy Reed's for breakfast when we're in Palm Springs just because he has a great last name. We go there for breakfast because it's the greatest in Palm Springs — for breakfast, that is.

Have you even sunk your teeth into a pecan-encrusted hot cinnamon roll dripping with butter? It's an experience you'll never forget. The rest of the food is good, too . . . the usual omelettes, eggs over easy (or however you like them), the full breakfast for Nebraska farmers, or the little breakfasts such as we order.

They have recently enlarged their restaurant, using some priceless antiques. Coffee or decaffeinated are served immediately and then you have time to peruse the antiques and a few reproductions. There are coffee grinders and Currier and Ives prints and spice boxes and old pictures and clocks and — well, you just have to be there to soak up all the atmosphere.

Next time you're in Palm Springs, don't miss it. For that breakfast of champions (yes, they have cold cereal, too) try Billy Reed's.

Figs lead the way to fiber fitness

The focal point of good health today is natural fiber found in foods and the value of fiber in our daily diet. Fiber has been "rediscovered" and is believed to have benefits which will prevent a variety of digestive and other diseases including cancer of the colon, hemorrhoids, diverticular disease, appendicitis, constipation, heart disease, cholesterol buildup, gallstones and obesity.

Due to our increased consumption of animal products, fats and processed foods, there's been a general decline in our natural fiber intake. Fiber, fortunately, is found in unprocessed fruits, vegetables and whole grain products. But whole grain products are not the only way to get fiber as some advertising claims would like us to believe.

Dried Figs, one of the most ancient of fruits, are one of the very best sources of natural fiber. Those delectable, succulent nuggets, rich in nutrients and delightful to the taste, are nearly 60% higher in dietary fiber than bran flakes with raisins!

The concern of good nutrition and improved eating habits in recent years has prompted many people to refer to California Dried Figs as "The Fruit for Good Nutrition." Now this fruit is also recognized as a leading contributor to a balanced fiber intake and as proof that not all high fiber foods have a less than desirable taste.

A comparison of the fiber content of over 130 common fruits listed in USDA Handbook 8-9 illustrates that dried figs are clearly the "Fiber Leader" regardless of the measurement—100 grams, 1 cup or 1 pound as purchased. Of the nearly 2,500 food items listed in the USDA Handbook 8, less than 1% have a higher fiber ranking than California Dried Figs.

A diet including generous amounts of fiber aids one's health by moving food quickly through the digestive tract. Also, these foods swell to greater bulk and fill the stomach more than other foods . . . they actually stay in the stomach longer reducing the "rebound hunger" which often occurs after one eats refined sugar and starch foods.

The addition of delicious California Dried Figs to your diet, either eaten out of hand, at mealtime in a variety of ways, or as a quick picker upper, is assurance that you are adding an excellent source of fiber and good nutrition, not just empty calories found in many processed foods.

For more information about California Dried Figs, why they should be your "Fruit for Good Nutrition" and how to include them in each of your daily meals and snacks, contact the California Dried Fig Advisory Board, Dept. DM, P.O. Box 709, Fresno, California 93712.

Preparation Time: 15 minutes
Cooking Time: 1½-3 minutes

Teriyaki Tuna

- 2 packages (6 ounces each) frozen Chinese pea pods
- 2 cans (6 1/2 or 7 ounces each) water-packed chunk light tuna, drained
- 1 can (8 ounces) sliced water chestnuts, drained and rinsed
- 1 can (8 ounces) bamboo shoots, drained and rinsed
- 1/2 cup thin red pepper strips
- 4 Ziploc® brand microwave bags (pint size)
- 2 tablespoons light brown sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon ground ginger
- 1/8 teaspoon garlic powder
- 1/4 cup dry sherry
- 1 tablespoon soy sauce
- 2 cups fresh spinach leaves

Divide frozen pea pods, tuna, water chestnuts, bamboo shoots and red pepper strips evenly in bags. Mix brown sugar, ginger and garlic powder in 1-cup glass measure, then add sherry and soy sauce, mixing until brown sugar is dissolved. Pour equal amount of sauce into each bag. Seal bags and shake to mix well. Freeze until ready to use. Reserve spinach leaves. 4 servings

To Cook From Refrigerator: When ready to use, open each bag to make a 1-inch center vent. Cook each bag in microwave oven 1 1/2-3 minutes at HIGH, or until thoroughly heated. Let stand 1 minute. Serve on 1/2 cup fresh spinach leaves.

To Cook From Freezer: Open each bag to make a 1-inch center vent. Cook each bag in microwave oven 3 minutes at MEDIUM (50% power) or until defrosted. Proceed as above.

Faster ways with microwaves

You can enjoy this delicious corned beef and cabbage recipe from Whirlpool any day of the year. Tender corned beef with a side dish of cabbage wedges is easy to prepare in a microwave oven and guaranteed to give your family a satisfying and nutritious meal. The cooking time for this hearty dinner is 1 hour, 45 minutes and will serve 8 to 10 hungry people.

CORNED BEEF WITH PEACH GLAZE (shown)

Total cooking time: 1 hour, 45 minutes

- 1 3-pound corned beef brisket
- 1 bay leaf
- 1 29-ounce can peach halves
- 1/4 cup packed brown sugar
- 1/4 cup catsup
- 2 tablespoons vinegar
- 2 teaspoons prepared mustard

Place brisket in 4-quart casserole. add water to cover (about 7 cups), bay leaf, and seasonings from brisket package. Cover; cook at Medium (50% power) for 90 minutes till tender, turning meat over once. Cool 10 minutes; slice across grain and place in 12x7 1/2x2-inch baking dish. Drain fruit and reserve 1/4 cup syrup; arrange around meat. Blend syrup and remaining ingredients; pour over meat and peaches. Cover; cook at Medium (50% power) for 15 minutes. Spoon sauce over. Serves 8 to 10.

CABBAGE WEDGES

Total cooking time: 10 to 12 minutes

- 1 1/2 to 2 lb. cabbage head
- 2 tablespoons water

Remove wilted outer leaves and wash cabbage in cold water. Cut into 6 or 8 wedges. Put wedges in covered 2-quart casserole with 2 tablespoons water. Cook at HIGH for 6 minutes. Rearrange wedges and cook 4 to 6 minutes longer at HIGH. Serves 6 to 8.

TIP FOR COOKING WHOLE CAULIFLOWER

Large vegetables such as cauliflower can easily be cooked whole in the microwave oven. Remove outer leaves and the excess part of the stem. Place in a 1-1/2-quart casserole or on a plate with about 2 tablespoons water. Cover tightly with plastic wrap. Vent the cover by making a slit in the surface to allow excess steam to escape. Cook at high for 7 to 9 minutes.

Roses featured at arboretum

Showcase features local artist

Suellen Begley designed San Marino House

Suellen Begley of Sierra Madre is one of the art sales exhibitors in the 1986 Pasadena Showcase House of Design. The Showcase House, 1125 Rosalind Rd., San Marino, will be open for public viewing Apr. 20 to May 18.

The secluded Mediterranean-style manor selected for this year's Showcase House was designed by architect Joseph Kucera and was built in 1931. The 8000 square foot house sits on 3¾-acres in San Marino's estate area.

It was originally part of a 7½-acre parcel which Henry Huntington gave to his favorite sister Caroline Huntington Holladay and her husband Edmund Burke Holladay in 1917 as an enticement to move to San Marino from the Bay area. The Holladays in turn divided the property in 1930 giving their son Collis 3¾ acres for his own family home.

Seventeen interior and 13 exterior designers, together with the Pasadena Junior Philharmonic Committee have completely refurbished and furnished the home and grounds to bring the public the latest design and landscaping techniques.

The home will be closed to the public Mondays and Tuesdays; Wednesdays and Fridays it will be open 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. and Thursdays, Saturdays and Sundays it will be open 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. To avoid long lines, P.J.P.C. recommends that visitors try to attend during the first two weeks Showcase is open. There is no parking allowed at the house; free parking and shuttle service are available at Bullock's, Pasadena. Refreshment and entertainment will be available whenever Showcase is open.

The Pasadena Showcase House of Design also features an art/boutique/craft sales area, with 40 artists exhibiting handpainted tiles, natural fabrics, handmade sweaters and scarves, watercolors and much more.

Suellen Begley of Sierra Madre will be selling her one-of-a-kind watercolor landscapes of private homes and local historical sights.

For more information, call (818) 792-4661.

Rose Float meets to select float design

Another winner in 1987? Another trophy to show the unparalleled "community spirit" of Sierra Madre? These questions may be answered this coming Monday, Apr. 28, at the regular monthly meeting of the Sierra Madre Rose Float Association. The meeting will be held in Council Chambers at City Hall and starts promptly at 8 p.m.

Members will participate in the selection and voting of the float design that will be entered in the 1987 Tournament of Roses Parade in Pasadena on Jan.1, 1987.

Last year, the city of Sierra Madre received the Princesses Trophy.

Kersting Court flags—flying start

The Kersting Court Flag Fund got off to a flying start, according to Bill Birgensmith, chairman of the fund committee.

The committee was formed on Monday, Apr. 14, and by 3 p.m., the fund had grown to $225, just by word of mouth. By week's end, the total was $593.65, with the first publicity appearing on Thursday, Apr. 16.

Committee members report receiving phone calls from citizens seeking to find out the how, when and where of contributing.

A long-standing dream of Birgensmith, the beautiful flag currently waving over Kersting Court is his contribution to the city, but is reserved for special occasions. It is flying now as an example of what the fund will make possible on a daily basis, to exemplify our community pride and love of country.

Questions have been raised regarding whether the fund is intended to raise money for one or more flags.

The answer is more. Nylon, which is the closest to silk, which can be flown outdoors in the 10-ft. by 15-ft. size of the one currently flying, costs approximately $200. It will last about one year.

If several thousand dollars can be raised, they will provide a long-term supply of the finest Old Glories available. Each $200 contributed means another year of the very best for Sierra Madre, "the best little city in the U.S. of A." as Birgensmith says, "We deserve the best."

The committee plans to purchase one flag initially, leaving the remaining funds in a savings account to earn interest and be available to purchase replacements as needed.

Birgensmith listed the names of early contributors, entitling the list as an "Honor Roll of Patriots."

They include the following: Adkins Insurance Agency, Bill Birgensmith, Walter Boose, Hugh Campbell, Nan and Jerry Carlton, Chris Dimitry, Jane Eason, Frank's Fresh Fish, Helen Frey, Ann Ell, Happy Jack's Video, Margaret Hatfield, Carl Houbein, Jan and John Maddox, Nancy Miller, Joe Murphy, The Only Place In Town, Pantorium, Tony Rodriguez, Sylvia Samuelson, Rosette Selbak, Dorothy Shramek, Sierra Madre News, Peter Tarup, Rowena Wingate, "anonymous" and "Sandy," who gave her lunch money.

Contributions should be made out to Kersting Court Flag Fund and mailed to Union Station, 4 N. Baldwin Ave., Sierra Madre, CA 91024.

Jan Maddox is serving as treasurer of the committee and any questions concerning the fund may be directed to her at 355-0768.

Liz Even is new Lloyds manager

Lloyds Bank of Sierra Madre has a new manager — Liz Even, a young, blonde, single woman. And she is returning to Sierra Madre after having been operations officer here two years ago.

John Burkhuis, former manager, has taken a position at Chase Manhattan Bank in Beverly Hills.

Even has been with Lloyds for 12 years, starting in Pomona, then traveling to Sierra Madre, on to Alhambra, then as manager of the Colorado-Rosemead office, and finally back to Sierra Madre as manager.

"I love this town. When I left two years ago, I was heartbroken. There's no place like it," she says of Sierra Madre.

Even was born in Sioux Falls,S.D. and came to California with her parents when she was 8 years old. She attended school in Pomona and graduated from Mt. San Antonio Junior College. She has also attended many seminars in management within the bank.

Her parents live in Claremont and she has five brothers, four sisters, scattered around the United States.

Even lives in LaVerne, traveling the freeways to Sierra Madre daily.

Stop in at Lloyds Bank and welcome her to Sierra Madre, a town we all love.

HOW TO FLY A KITE SAFELY.

1 Always use dry string, wood and paper in your kite.

2 Never use wire or any metallic material.

3 Don't fly your kite in the rain.

4 Don't cross streets or highways when kite flying.

5 Always fly your kite away from TV and radio antennas.

6 Always fly your kite far from power lines! Don't try to retrieve kites caught in power lines!

7 Hold on to metallic balloons outside. When metallic balloons escape, they may touch power lines and cause sparking, and that's dangerous!

Parents, please share this with your children.

Personality is important skill in running business — Alvarado

"Skill comes with training, and rapport with customers is very important to a business also," Sue Alvarado, owner of The Soft Touch, told The News recently.

Alvarado has been in the manicuring business for 4½ years, with the last five months here in Sierra Madre.

She attended the Valley Vocational School in La Puente for three months. She then was in training at The Pampered Hand in Arcadia before moving to Sierra Madre.

Why did she choose the profession of manicurist? One day she was getting her nails done and realized that this was the sort of work she had been looking for — something she could enjoy doing while the hours would be flexible.

She now has five employees who are on staggered hours so that no one is on call all the time. She puts in 12-hour days most of the time, she says. About 200 patrons have their nails done at Alvarado's shop weekly.

"When I started this business, it was to put all of my philosophies into the business and it has worked. I believe in giving service and I think an owner's personality is very important to this type of business," Alvarado believes.

Acrylic fingernails — a feature of The Soft Touch — have been around for 25 to 30 years, Alvarado explains. They have been really popular the past five years, probably, she says, because there are so many more working women.

"They work so hard that this is the one thing they can do for themselves and they get a whole hour of relaxation for themselves at the same time." She does pedicures as well as manicures, linen wraps as well as acrylic nails.

Alvarado explains the procedure for acrylics: first the nail is buffed and primer is applied. The acrylic nail is installed and Alvarado then files, buffs and finally paints the nails. She says she uses a thin acrylic so the nail looks more natural.

She has been married to her husband, Robert, for five years and they have a son, Stephen, 2 years next month.

She is also a graduate of Cal Poly with a business degree. Hours at The Soft Touch are Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. to 8 p.m.; and Saturday, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. The late hours accommodate the working woman, she explains.

Stop in and see Sue Alvarado in Renaissance Plaza to put your best hand forward.

in the police car located by our back door, lights were turned off and everyone went home. And we went back to pasting up the rest of the paper.

That Tuesday was definitely "once in awhile."

● Also Tuesday evening was the reorganization of the new Sierra Madre City Council with the reception afterwards. It was a beautiful reception; all food and decorations were donated. Former Mayor Corp made it very clear that no public funds had been spent on the reception. And it was a fine reception in many ways for the new group.

● I was bemoaning the fact that as yet I have not seen Halley's Comet. New City Councilman Bruce Crow said not to worry — the pass in 158 years will be much more brilliant. I can hardly wait . . .

● Speaking of Bruce, we found out last week just how many readers we have. Or perhaps I should say, how many proofreaders there are out there. We had many calls and lots of people stopped us on the street to tell us we'd left off the new councilman's name from the photo caption on the front page.

Three sets of eyes looked at the caption late, late as we pasted up the last of the paper, and did not see the error.

Our apologies, Bruce. But in the next four years we'll make you famous.

toll. They must build up their confidence and self-esteem so they can reenter the work force," he says.

He explains that there are efforts by some companies to help those who are laid off to find other jobs "but who helps with the emotional problems?" he asks.

What does Tims propose? Weekly groups meeting 1½ hours for about six weeks. "This will not be a group of losers getting together to cry on each other's shoulders. There will be tears but this is a group of winners and you all can be winners if you take the positive approach," Tims says.

For those who wish to discuss the possibility of becoming a part of such a group, Tims is available in the Professional Directory in the Sierra Madre News. His number is 355-5216.

Notice of Death of CHARLES E. ABBE and of Petition to Administer Estate No. NEP31413

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors and contingent creditors and persons who may be otherwise interested in the will or estate of: Charles E. Abbe.

A petition has been filed by Winfield J. Abbe in the Superior Court of Los Angeles County requesting that Winfield J. Abbe be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.

The petition requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act.

A hearing on the petition will be held on May 9, 1986, at 10:00 a.m., Dept. A, at 300 East Walnut Street, Pasadena, California 91101.

IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should either appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the deceased, you must file your claim with the court or present it to the personal representative appointed by the court within four months from the date of first issuance of letters as provided in Section 700 of the California Probate Code. The time for filing claims will not expire prior to four months from the date of the hearing noticed above.

YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are interested in the estate, you may serve upon the executor or administrator, or upon the attorney for the executor or administrator, and file with the court with proof of service, a written request stating that you desire special notice of the filing of an inventory and appraisement of estate assets or of the petitions or accounts mentioned in Section 1200 and 1200.5 of the California Probate Code.

New council agrees

mission with respect thereto. Urgency moratoriums are in effect for 45 days, City Administrator Jim McRea reminded the group. This ordinance begins immediately and goes until Monday, June 9.

The City Council sustained the Planning Commission's action and found that property owned by L. D. Harvey at 453 Manzanita Ave. is now in substantial compliance following the appeal of an earlier hearing concerning a public nuisance. Councilman Roy Buchan's motion included Harvey's relocating roofing materials from the location, with a review of the property in 30 days.

Sierra Vista Park is in for some improvements. The council members allowed $2980.01 for relocation of the eastern fence of the city yards and the construction of a batting cage that would replace a portion of the new fence required. This action follows dire results of the flood that swept through the city yards across Sierra Madre Blvd. when water rushed through a break in one of the settling basins.

The material and construction of the batting cage, except for installation of the fence posts, is being completed by the Little League and the Baseball Association.

Laurie Cooper urged the city to spend more time in controlling a dangerous weed problem on city property on E. Laurel. Bailey Canyon Park also has a good stand of weeds, she said. Because this is National Volunteer Week, she also urged residents to lend a hand.

A valve operator to control the flow of water into the spreading basins was allowed at Tuesday evening's meeting. To be taken out of water department funds is $3675, budgeted. Not budgeted is a check signer at $1291.85 and a paper shredder at $1353.62, both for the finance department. Money for the last two items will be taken from the undesignated General Fund.

Senior Citizens' Club Activities

The Sierra Madre Senior Citizens' Club meets regularly every Saturday in the Senior Center in Memorial Park from 11 a.m. until 3 p.m. Members bring a sack lunch and the club provides tea and coffee.

Membership is open to men and women 55 years of age and older. Dues are $2 per calendar year.

Friday's program, 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. — Video viewing (game shows and sports events), Sewing Circle (needlepoint, knitting, chit-chat). Members needing buttons sewed on or assistance with mending may bring their garments to the Circle. Card games and jigsaw puzzles. An exercise group may be available if anyone is interested.

Saturday program — Business meeting, quarterly birthday parties, occasional catered luncheons, sing-a-longs, card games, travelogues and other entertainment.

Portrait artist

The comptroller was so pleased with the portrait that he aided by suggesting directing efforts toward institutes the Queen Mother was associated with, such as the Anglian Royal Regiment of which she was honorary Colonel in Chief.

Stone was commissioned to do a panoramic painting of the regiment's 10th anniversary. This finally led to a commission to paint the Queen Mother who, he says, was the "ideal sitter — sympathetic to my needs as a painter."

She agreed to the maximum number of sittings — five, each one an hour in length. She gave him a studio to use at Clarence House and he stayed for three months, finishing two official portraits.

She would come in and invite him to tea and to lunch. he says he wa "madly in love with her" and describes the period as "desperately exciting."

After this flush of success, there were no other sittings for a year — "much publicity but no work," he explains. he appeared on television shows and there were many articles in the newspapers. He was known as a "cocky young artist" and will forever be known as "the chap who painted the Queen Mother."

Then came a portrait of Princess Margaret in 1981. She sat 13 times at Kensington Palace and when the main study prefacing the final portrait was completed, she said to him, "I've been suffering the last two weeks from flu and I think you've caught it. Please soften the painting." He did.

He also did a charcoal drawing of 85-year-old Princess Alice, the Duchess of Gloucester, a piece she liked so much that she used it for her personal Christmas card. Other portraits include Sir Adrian Boult; Lord Bothby; Yehudi Menuhin, among many more. The portrait drawings of Sir Arthur Bliss and Boult are in the permanent collection at the National Portrait Gallery, London. He also painted the Burmese National Dance Company at Sadlers Wells in 1971. Princess Michael Kent became his fourth Royal sitter.

In 1985, Stone was honored with the Freedom of the City of London award. Later that year, he was elected as a Liveryman into the Worshipful Company of Painter-Stainers, one of London's most ancient and distinguished guilds.

Has he asked Pres. Reagan to sit for him? Of course. But Reagan only sits for American artists.

Since 1983, Stone has staged an annual exhibition of his work on board the Cunard flagship Queen Elizabeth II. On one of his crossings he met Dr. Dan and Adele McGann, San Marino residents. They struck up an instant friendship and Stone is now visiting the McGanns. They are representing the Royal painter and anyone who wishes to contact Stone about portraiture is urged to call the McGanns at 799-8827.

Portrait artist Richard Stone shows his hosts, Adele and Dr. Dan McGann, a red chalk drawing of one of the Royal Court's ladies in waiting.

Donna Brown is new therapist

"One of my goals is to prove that power is not an issue," Donna Brown, psychotherapist says. Many people believe that power wins and Brown hopes to dispel that belief.

Another goal of one of Sierra Madre's newest businesspersons is "to give to the family instruction about how to have a peaceful, harmonious family life and individual life. Instead of relationships that are up and down, we need to start at the roots (of the relationships)," she says.

And those roots are one of the reasons she came to Sierra Madre — she believes that this town has good roots. "We can be the center of hope. People come to this town not to be a part of the 'push, push, push' world," Brown says. She felt the energy in Sierra Madre.

One of her main goals is to preserve the family, she explains. She works with children who are troubled, particularly those children whose parents have just been through a divorce. "Divorce doesn't have to be hostile. It can be handled in a way that each party can see what is gained and what is lost. Let's make the divorce as healing as possible. Some carry their divorce wounds for 20 years. Divorce is only one of the answers. And since the divorce rate is hitting 50%, it is something we cannot hide from. It's a reality as well as the number of blended families. We don't have a lot of models for that sort of existence and I hope to provide models."

Everyone needs coping skills, she says, and she wishes to be able to provide those skills to people who need them.

Another goal, Brown states, is to work with women on women's issues. It is not necessary that you work or stay home to be a woman. You can do either; both are fine, she says. "There is a need to define what's best for each individual."

The world is changing so rapidly that we don't always change with it. We cannot always stay "as is," she explains. We must move with the times and for some people who are rigid, that means they break like a rigid tree. Others who are more fluid are able to bend and go with the times.

"I want to provide a place where people can deal with the inner and outer world. Basically, I am a marriage, family and child counselor. I can help anybody with relationship issues. People need to stop driving into the wall and go around the wall. Many of us keep driving into the wall.Most of us know inside what to do but we get fragmented and forget what to do. We need a place to come to work out the problem, whether that problem is at work or within the home," Brown states.

The counselor was born next door in Pasadena and now lives in Glendora. She graduated in 1983 with a master's degree from the California Family Study Center in Burbank. She also received training at the Santa Anita Counseling Center in Arcadia. She also has a BA from Cal State L.A. and has a lifetime elementary teaching credential. She taught in Baldwin Park for several years.

Brown is an ordained minister from Santa Anita Church. "Margaret Stephens ordained me," she explains.

Are children of today different than they were a generation ago? "I don't see them as different but they have to deal with different things in life in different ways. There are still the four main emotions: anger, sadness, fear and glad. Those never change. Each person has a different way of responding to these emotions."

One of the latest phenomena, she explains, is the adolescent not being able to leave home because of the high cost of living. Many return to their homes after college life. This can create other family problems.

The Sierra Madre therapist is located in the "D" suite of Renaissance Plaza and is on call 24 hours a day.

The Canyon Gardener

by Greg Martin

I have brushed the dust off my bag of lawn fertilizer and put it on my grass to help green up the lawn. But my turf is still crying out for help. What has happened to my poor grass? Why, it just wants to be able to breathe!

As grass grown, its roots and stems become thick and this won't allow enough air down into the root zone. Lack of air to its roots means the start of insect and disease problems in summer.

Before this happens, I will give my grass a boost of oxygen by aerating the soil. This is done with a hand tool called an aerator, which pulls plugs out of the sod.

Please, buy an aerator for your lawn and let it breathe. Do this simple task once a year (twice is better), and your lawn will thank you with a greener, less troubled life.

Ascension

This Saturday, Apr. 26, a rummage sale in the parish hall is sponsored by St. Mary's Guild and purchases may be made from 9 a.m. until 3 p.m. At 4 p.m., Saturday, the Sierra Madre Historical Society has scheduled a stop at Ascension Church as part of the annual tour of historic buildings.

Sunday, Apr. 27, is the Fifth Sunday of Easter and Fr. Bamberger will be the Celebrant at the 8 a.m.Mass and Fr. Behm will be the Celebrant of the 10 a.m. Mass. Fr. Behm will preach the sermon.

Thursday, May 1, St. Francis Guild will hold its regular monthly meeting in the parish hall at 9:30 a.m. Friday, May 2, the Ascension youth leave for a camping trip to Joshua Tree. On Saturday, a Quiet Morning is scheduled for persons who are to be Confirmed the following week. The weekday Mass schedule appears in our advertisement on this page.

Lutheran

The theme of next Sunday's sermon at Gloria Dei Lutheran Church of Sierra Madre is: "We, Too, Stand In The Presence of The Risen Lord and Say, Speak, Lord; Thy Servant Heareth." Sunday School and Bible study follow. We invite you to join us in studying 1 Peter. The 7:30 p.m., Wednesday Bible class will continue its study of the public ministry. Be our guest.

"Sin" must be one of those four-letter words. You know . . . the kind you aren't supposed to use in mixed company. People don't like to talk about sin or hear about it. They like to rationalize it, or excuse it, or they tag it with a fancy medical term, or call it a sickness. Today, even abortion, homosexuality, lesbianism are not considered sin, but "constitutional rights!" Escapism through drugs or alcohol is not called sin, but just "sickness."

We talk about sin plenty; not about other people's sins, but about our own.We do this because God's Word talks about it and tells us about how God saves us too. That's the Word we preach — popular or not! Come hear: about sin, freedom from sin, forgiveness of sin and eternal life.

KID'S PRAISE, Bethany, Apr. 26, 27

Saturday and Sunday, Apr. 26 and 27, there will be an uplifting musical presented by the Children's Choirs entitled "KIDS PRAISE!" This will be directed by Stephanie Chiasson and assisted by Kathy Hayter and Jill Girod. This outstanding musical, fully-choreographed will be held at 7 and 6:30 p.m. respectively.

For further information, you are invited to call the church at (818) 355-1403. Bethany Church is located at 93 N. Baldwin Ave., Sierra Madre.

Bethany

Tandem Ministries, a two-track worship format continues this Sunday, Apr. 27, at Bethany Church in Sierra Madre. The first service is at 9 a.m., concluding at 10:25 a.m., will provide contemporary worship. The 10:45 service will be traditional in format and will conclude at 11:55 a.m.

Age group adult Sunday school classes will meet at either 9 a.m. or 10:45 a.m., depending upon the class.

The worship theme will be the same for both the contemporary and traditional services. Senior Pastor Dr. Charles A. Wickman will speak on "Clash With the Underworld," from Mark 5:1-20. This message is on the demon possessed man at Gadara. It tells the story of how Christ loses those who are managed by sin; how freedom from evil attachments is gained and how Christ expects us to go back into the world after He has released us as witnesses to Him.

Weekly Wednesday schedule continues with Kardia Women at 9:15 a.m. until noon, AWANA Clubs for pre-school through 5th grade boys and girls at 6:45 p.m., Junior Varsity for 6 - 8th youth at 7 p.m. and XLR8 for high school at 7:01 p.m., Church Bible studies with lecture and discussion for adults at 6:57 p.m., lead by Chuck Houston. Sanctuary choir rehearsal starts at 7 p.m. The new series for Kardia and Church Bible study is entitled "Principles of Abundant Living."

Saturdy and Sunday, Apr. 26 and 27, there will be an uplifting musical presented by the children's choirs entitled "Kids Praise!" This will be directed by Stephanie Chiasson and assisted by Kathy Hayter and Jill Girod. This outstanding musical, fully choreographed, will be held at 7 and 6:30 p.m. respectively.

A Church and school work day is being planned for Saturday, Apr. 26, from 8 - 1 p.m. Don't forget to set your clocks ahead one hour on Apr. 27.

For further information, you are invited to call the church at (818) 355-1403. Bethany Church is located at 93 N. Baldwin Ave., Sierra Madre.

Methodist

"Doing Your Own Thing!" will be the sermon topic this Sunday, at the Sierra Madre United Methodist Church. Rev. H. Elwood Wissmann, pastor, will be preaching at the 9:30 morning worship service. Nursery and child care are available at this hour.

Church school classes for children through grade six are held at the 9:30 hour. The Adult Study class meets on Sunday at 10:45 a.m. in the Lounge. The group is presently engaged in a Bible study of the Resurrection and its meaning for today.

A special four-weeek study of methodism begins this Sunday at 10:45 a.m. in the choir room. This will be led by K.C. Putnam, assistant to the minister, and is designed to explore areas of history, doctrine and structure. Those considering membership in the church and those wishing to refresh their understanding, are invited to attend.

The Sarah Circle of the United Methodist Women meets this Friday, 12:30 p.m., in the Lounge. The Women's Prayer and Support group meets on Thursday at 1 p.m. in the church lounge.

An all-church workday will be held this Saturday beginning at 9 a.m. The group will be engaged in a number of work projects at the church until 12 noon.

Local families sought for exchange students

ASSE International Student Exchange Programs (ASSE) is seeking local families to host Swedish, Danish, Finnish, Norwegian, Icelandic, Dutch and German girls and boys, 16 to 18 years of age, coming to this area for the upcoming high school year. These European teens are fluent in English, bright, curious and anxious to learn about this country through living as part of a family, attending high school and sharing their own culture and language with their newly adopted American family.

The exchange students arrive from their home country in August and return at the end of the school year in June. Each ASSE student is fully insured, brings his or her own personal spending money and expects to bear his or her share of household responsibilities, as well as being included in normal family activities.

The students are well screened and qualified by ASSE. Families may select the youngster of their choice from extensive student applications, family photos and biographical essays. Students and families are encouraged to begin corresponding prior to the students' arrival.

The students are sponsored by ASSE, a non-profit, public benefit organization, affiliated with the Swedish and Finnish Departments of Education.

Families who would like to share their lifestyle with a European teenager and experience the rewards of this enriching opportunity, should contact ASSE's local representative: Linda Gardner, 7102 Summertime Lane, Culver City, CA 90230, or call Linda at (213) 559-9469.

For more information, please call (818) 798-8020. There is no charge for these meetings.

Annual plant sale planned May 4, arboretum

Plants and trees especially well suited to Southern California gardens, will be featured at the Los Angeles State and County Arboretum's 16th annual plant sale to be held on Sunday, May 4, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

This one-day plant sale includes a large collection of different items and will give the ardent gardener a chance to buy specialty plants not commonly found in nurseries. The selection changes annually and includes plants that take advantage of the microclimates of Southern California including the best of two plant worlds — both the tropic and the temperate zones.

Congregational

Pastor Richard J. Anderson's sermon message on Sunday, Apr. 27, is titled "Murderer or Martyr." The scriptural reference for his message is I John, chapter 3, verses 14 through 16. We all have hard choices to make. We are either going to live after the leading of the flesh and cause suffering for others, or we are going to live after the leading of the Holy Spirit and we will suffer persecution. It's either or. The flesh doesn't like the options and immediately invents a pseudo center ground. The three Sunday morning worship services are at 8:15, 9:45 and 11:15 a.m.

The Sunday evening service which starts at 6 p.m. will be part III of a series titled "Early Church History" presented by Craig Barnard, Pastor to adults on staff at S.M.C.C. Craig's message will focus on the "Heretics" in the early church.

Obituaries

Cynthia Ellet

A memorial service was held at 2 p.m. Monday at the Santa Anita Church, 226 W. Colorado Blvd., Arcadia, for Cynthia Wood Ellet who died Apr. 18.

She was a Pasadena area resident since 1926, and lived in Sierra Madre for 44 years.

She is survived by her husband Charles, and four children, Cynthia Keltner of Los Angeles; Sue McCue of Santa Barbara; and Wendy Ellet and Tom Ellet, Sierra Madre. Also surviving are grandchildren Sean and Dana McCue, and Eric, Jennifer and Eli Keltner, and one great-grandchild, Melody Keltner. Other survivors include her stepmother, Perley Wood, of Norco, and four sisters, Pamela McIntire, San Diego; Sara McPherson, Escondido; Jane Heinig, Tempe, Arizona, and Martha Coutant, Sierra Madre.

Mrs. Ellet's husband is Straw Hat Charlie, who has worked on the back stretch at Santa Anita Race Track since opening day in 1934.

Mrs. Ellet died on her 71st birthday.

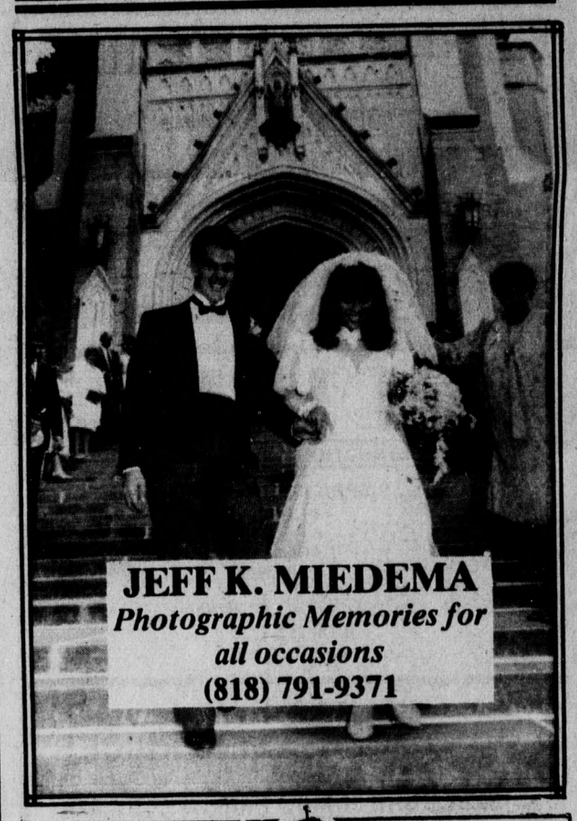

Friends who wish to remember Mrs. Ellet with a memorial should consider the American Red Cross or American Cancer Society.

Seniors offered health care, tests

A field day for seniors from 10 a.m. - 3 p.m., Wednesday and Thursday, May 14 and 15, is Methodist Hospital's special recognition of Older Americans Month.

All of the healthcare bases will be covered with focus on health tests and screenings for blood pressure, blood sugar levels, colorectal cancer, hearing, dental, pulmonary function and vision.

There will be speakers on topics of senior interest relating to Medicare supplemental insurance, personal safety, ElderMED and health care in general. Other areas of focus will be the hospital's complete geropsychiatric program, the extended series available in the acute rehabilitation unit and the many educational opportunities available free of charge. This will also be an opportunity for the adult community to personally meet the senior care coordinator, Victor Thoreson.

Plenty of food, fun, entertainment, door gifts and prizes will round out this action-packed free event planned to have all the excitement of a personal field day.

Preferred parking will be available in the Maxwell Pavilion parking lot with shuttle service available for any overflow.

For additional information, call the Community Relations department at (818) 574-3434.

First swimmer

The Olympic champion and actor (Tarzan) Johnny Weissmuller, was the first member of the Swimming Hall of Fame.

First to volley

Volleyball was invented in 1895 by William G. Morgan, physical director of the Holyoke, Mass. YMCA.

Ceramics sale set for May 6, 7

The annual spring ceramics sale held by the Adult Education class of Monrovia High School will be open to the public. Sales will begin Tuesday and Wednesday, May 6 and May 7. Hours will be 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. and 6:30 p.m. to 9 p.m. on both days.

The sale will be held on the Monrovia High School campus in the lab which is north of the Administration (main) Bldg., located at 845 W. Colorado Blvd., Monrovia.

On sale will be the original works of several dozen creative ceramicists. There will be vases, bowls, cups, mugs, planters, wind chimes and plates along with many other unique ceramic pieces.

For further information, call the ceramics lab at 359-9847.
